How can one distinguish between cound and unsound abitutions, seeing that more than one old company has tely become bankrupt?

How can one distinguisn between round and subsequent institutions, seeing that more than one old company has lately become bankrupt?

The following suggestions may be usef.1 in arriving at a correct decision.

1. Look at the character of the persons who are connected with the management of office, especially whether they are business men of good position.

2. Consider the past career of the institution and refer to the periodical reports.

3. Make inquiry as to the Investments, and more particularly as to the amount held on Mortgage which should always be a la ge proportion of the invested Fund.

4. Do not beled away by promises of advantage through lower traces of permitting, or by large additions from bonus. The content of the invested for some years, also the total amount insured.

6. Above all examine the periodical Investigation Reports.

CALL AND SEE SAMPLES OF WED-ding and Visiting Cards at the BRITISH COLONISZ Frinting Office.

Wednesday Morning, Jan. 12, 1870. Use and Destiny of the Colonies, It has already been shown that the English mind is at length being educated up to a practical apprehension of into which the surplus population of the Old Country may be transplanted. It is indeed strange that this view did not earlier prevail. It would be difficult to estimate the magnitude of the loss sustained by Great Britain through her strange stupidity on this subject. With ample colonial fields, waste and sterile for want of population, she has allowed centres of population to attain a terrible degree of rankness, and to produce that scourge of the nation, pauperism, while she has, on the other hand, been permitting her best and thriftiest 'sons of toil to pour in one continuous stream of ton' to pour in one continuous stream into the United States. Ton and twelve thousand a month, and still they go! During the four years' war 600,000 British workmen sought homesteads in the United States. The Irishman who have hear driven to sach men who have been driven to seek a home in a foreign country have sent £14,000,000 sterling of their earnings home, wherewith to fetch their kith and kin over to join them in the land of promise, in the great West. Just look at it: The nation is nursing in her look at it: The nation is nursing in her bosom a huge mass of festering human-ity at a cost of probably £20,000,000 sterling a year, to say nothing of the evils of infectious orime, while she is driving monthly from her tens of thousands, who are building up a powerful nation of British haters on a foreign soil. A proper sytem of transplanting into the colonies would have averted both of these evils. It would have created a second Britain—a Greater Britain on this continent out of that very material which has been transformed into an implacable enemy abroad, and a withering curse at home. Who can be so blind as not to see the path of duty plainly now? The consolidation of all British America into one Domina ion and the throwing open of the great Northwest, appears almost in the light of a providential movement. It came none too soon. Does Britain see her duty, and will she do it? Through the mistaken, the suicidal policy of the past, a powerful, British-hating people past, a powerful, British-hating people has been raised up on this continent to dispute possession. There is only one way in which we can now successfully cope with that people and succeed in building up a British Empire in America. Those who leave the British Isles must not pease to be British They must be cease to be British. They must be transplanted into the new empire-not driven into the United States: In order to do this, it is not enough that emigration has become the object of philan-thropy, or the subject of 'Joint Stock' speculation. Commendable as these efforts may be, they are not at all adequate to the exigency. The nation must arise in all her great strength and There is nothing else for it. If the whole responsibility is thrown upon Canada it may prove too much for her. At any rate the process would be too Great Britain must 'make a spoon or spoil a horn' in America. Past impolicy has raised up conditions which will brook no delay, admit of no half measures. But, it is no less Imperial interest than it is Imperial duty to do this thing. Every able bodied emigrant leaving the British Isles for the United States is not only a subject transformed into a foe, but it is a consumer gone, a producer lost. The Customs Tariff of the United States purposely prohibits the consumption of British goods. But, The Customs Tariff of let British America be filled up with a British people; let the redundant population of the nation be placed in the way of well-doing, and let home manufactures be admitted fr the new Dominion, and who shall guage the result? Those who are now a burden and a blot upon the nation will become the consumers of the fruits of requited home-industry, while they, in turn, will send home corn and cotton.
And will it not pay the nation to do this? Her trade is falling off; her looms are idle, and pauperism is increasing at an alarming rate.

It is costing more every year to keep half a million of the people in a condition of pauperised misery and idleness than it would cost to transplant into new soil and transform into a blessing a seething curse—turn an element of national weakness into an element of national strength. Two years' keep would establish in the Northwest. While all this is the duty and the interest of the Old Empire it is the only salvation of the New. Without it We are assured that the parties engaged west. While all this is the duty and the interest of the Old Empire it is the only salvation of the New. Without it British America must cease to be Bristish America must cease Left to itself, the new Dominion tish. Left to itself, the new Dominion must fail to pieces—will be absorbed by the Great Republe. No half-measures, no leggard, niggardly policy can save it. Its destiny—its immediate destiny is to become the second empire of the content. Nay, it is utter folly to think of keeping separated by an artificial boundary line extending across the continent, two Anglo-Saxon peoples, if one of them is to remain weak, sickly, enationalized, out into isolated atoms. British America, we repeat, must be made one, by an interoceanic railway, and it must be filled up by a British population, and it must be done quickly, the true use of the colonies, as a field or else this cub of the British Lion will be gobbled up by the American Eagle, while yet it is teething. There is no use of mineing words—concealing facts. No sickly sentimental loyalty will ever create a British Empire on this continent. It now remains for Great Britain to decide, once for all, whether she will reproduce herself in America or withdraw from it.

Canadian Mail Summary. We have Canadian files to the 22nd December. The Hamilton Speciator of that date says 'The news from the Red River is too contradictory and uncertain to offer an inviting text for editorial comment. Whether the malcontents at Fort Garry are four hundred strong or only forty is a point about which there seems to be no certainty, We infer from the telegraphic report of Gov. McDougall's letter that Her Majesty's proclamation was issued in the territory on proclamation was issued in the territory on the first instant, in which case Gov. McDougall will become her representative and would be legally entitled to take what steps he might deem necessary to uphold her authority. We have every confidence that his conduct will be marked by prudence. It is reported that Col. Dennis is at the head of the surveying staff, and has occupied the stone fort forty miles from Fort Garry with a strong force, and that Governor McDou-gall has entered the territory at the head of three hundred men, on his way to Fort Gar-ry. It is believed that he will meet with but ry. It is believed that no will meet with out little opposition, and that the agitation will soon 'die out'. The Muoroe trial, which caused so much interest in New Brunswick, was concluded on the 17th and, as has already been announced by telegraph, the jury found the princar with with a recommendafound the prisoner guilty, with a recommenda-tion to mercy. Mr. S B Thomson, counsel for Munroe, is said to have made a most eloquent and impressive appeal to the jury, in the course of which he characterised the criminal law of which he characterised the criminal law as inhuman, and the conduct of the Crown prosecutor as bloodthirsty. In his reply, the Attorney-General utterly repudiated the charge of blood-thirstiness, and in a very able and tempera e speech proceeded to review the evidence. The Judge summed up, and the jury, after an absence of two hours, came into Court and, amid deathlike alleges delivered their varifict. As the very silence, delivered their verdict. As the ver-dict was proncunced Munroe fell over against the side of the dock and sobbed convulsively. It was generally reported at Montresi that the side of the dock and sobbed convulsively. It was generally reported at Montreal that the Fellans contemplate a raid on the Province of Quebec, on a formidable scale, in early Spring. On the 20th Lieut-Colonel Ferrier, of the Montreal garrison artillery, exhibited to Sir George Cartier and the Adjutant General the Stevens' gun. This is a new gun invented by R E Stevens, Owen Sound, Ontario, and it is regarded in military circles as superior to the Soider-Enfield rifle. The Hon Joseph Howe, Secretary of State for the Provinces, has been recently made Superintendent General of Indian Affairs for the Dominion. In the railway returns for November, the Great Western shows $338,405, against $295,895 for the same month of the previous year. The Grand Trunk $657,635, against $614,456. The Northern $41,301, against $17.871. The St Lawrence and Ottawa $10,866, against $8652, the smaller lines generally speculation. Commendable as these efforts may be, they are not at all adequate to the exigency. The nation must arise in all her great strength and carnestness and employ her rusting, moth-caten wealth in the great work of building up an empire. She must immediately throw up a highway from sea to sea, and guide her surplus millions into these new fields. Thus will she make a happy and loyal people out of those who now breed Fenians, and a thrifty yeomanry of the great West of the present breeders of pauperism. There is nothing else for it. If the and he was a statement for the Province has within itself a permanent revenue of 1871. The St Lawrence and Ottawa $10.865, against $8652, the smaller lines generally exhibiting proportionate increase. A comparison of the precent resources of Ontario with those of but a very lew years back fully-justified the Treasurer in stating that the Province had been growing without its knowledge into a large and powerful nation, with an area se large as that of England and Ireland, and a population equallise land and Ireland, and a population equalling Scotland's, and comparing favorably with that of Denmark, of Greece, or of Switzer. land, while within thirty-six years public works had been constructed worth not less than $112,000,000.

SINGULAR MATRIMONIAL TRANSACTION A WIDOW IS UNITED IN MARRIAGE TO THE SPIRIT OF A DECEASED ACQUAINTANCE.—One of the most singular matrimonial affairs that ever came to our knowledge occurred in the capital of this county a few a short time since, and one that demonstrated, in a great degree, the firm belief entertained by some people in the supernatural capabilities of spirit mediums.

A widow lady, named Mrs. W---, who A widow lady, named Mrs. W——, who is a convert to spiritualism, became convinced that her affinity was embodied in the spirit of a gentleman who died nearly two years ago, and she accordingly sought the counsel of a lady medium, also a resident of the county seat, who advised her to be at once united in wedlock to the deceased. Strange as it may seem, Mrs. W—— made preparations for such an event, and at the time appointed made her appearance at the bayes of the medium arrayed in bridal at-repast was served in nonor of the event.

We are assured that the parties engaged in this singular transaction acted in perfect good faith. Our opinion is that the heroine in the affair will soon sigh for something more substantial than a spiritual husband,—

it. Its destiny—its immediate destiny is to become the second empire of the British Crown, or an integral part of the powerful Republic. The American Eagle is even now hovering in the air, ever on the alert to take advantage of the first intimation of weakness or dissection of weakness or dissections.

Rumored Elopement.

There has been quite a flutter in English society recently, caused by the rumor that the only daughter and heiress of a wellknown Yorkshire squire and ex-M.P., had eloped with a professor of gymnastics. The facts of the strange affair seem to be as follows:—The ex-M.P., who is a landed proprietor, a man of great wealth, and connected with several aristoctatic families, has recent-ly been staying, on account of his health with his daughter at Nice. The lady who is handsome, and only sweet seven-teen, is considered one of the belles of London Society, While staying at Nice she became acquainted with a French gentleman styling himself Professor de Gymnastique de la Famille Imperiale de Russie. There are several acounts of how and acquaintance was formed. It is stated that the young lady was a pupil of the professor's and that while teach ing her gymnastics he also took the opportunity of making love to her. Whether this account of the beginning of the intimacy is the correct one we are unable to say, but at all events the Frenchman seems to have gained the lady's affections.

'THE CHIEF OF JACKASSES.'-George Francis Train, on his way from a British Bastile to the White House,' has just sent us a reminder from the East, in the form of a bundle of his lecture bills, covered for the which he calls epigrams, one of which may be given as a specimen :

'The Religion of the Blgot, Since the child first learned to spell, Is a phantom God, a local Heaven, A long tailed bevil, and a Brimetone Hell'

As an illustration of Irain's passion for no toristy, one of these bills contains the fol-lowing not very complimentary notice of him from the St Louis Democrat:

PRAYERS ASKED FOR GEORGE FRANCIS
TRAIN. Tuesday night George Francis Train lectured in this city, at Strain's Opera House, to about two thousand persons. Yesterday morning, in the Union prayer meeting, a good brother asked the prayers of the stinus present for Train. If there was any promise in Holy Writ of mercy for the chief of Jackasses as well as the 'chief of sinners,' there might be some encouragement to pray for George Francis.' to about two thousand persons. 'THE BENEFIT (!) OF ADVERTISING'-IN THE GOVERNMENT GAZETTE. Yesterday morning. in the Bankruptey Court, appeared His Lordship the Chief Justice, prepared to bear a case in bankruptey, when it was discovered that neither bankrupt nor creditor was in attendance. In response to a question from the surprised Chief Justice, the Registrar stated that a notice of the sitting had appeared the usual time in the Government Gazette (/). And not in the daily paper? queried His Lordship. 'No, sir,' replied the Registrar. The Chief Justice surveyed the empty benches for a moment, then slow-ly descended, retired to his chambers and disrobed. Subsequently, we learned that a notice of the next sitting was ordered to be served upon the bankrupt, and, we suppose, the same polite attention will be shown to the creditors of the estate.

The committee on dogmas commenced its sittings by severa on dogma's commenced its stitutes yeavens, extrep petitions to the Roman Father, Several signed their names to a petition to the Pope praying his boliness to present to the Council an opportunity for declaring the dogma of infallibility. It is evidently their design to force the Holy Father into this posteript. They are doubtful about obtaining policy. They are doubtful about obtaining a sufficient number of adherents unless be publicly commits himselt in favor of the dogma. They report that the Pope will allow no discussion on the points of infallibi-lity by the Council unless he is sure of the result. It is inferred he receives such peti-tions as the above simply as expressions of hama ge to the Holy See

NEW YORK, Jaff 10-The Times' corres-ondent writes from Cuba by the last mail. News is of very serious importance. The negroes on 15 large plantations in the district of Saqua la Grand have risen in rebellion. The military were shooting all who could be oaught. Nobody here believes the bond be daught. Nobody here believes the hopeful statement by the semi-official journal since facts continually belie the assertion. The Spatish treasury is perfectly exhausted and the Government can send no money to Cuba. General Uaballero de Chech has to borrow sixty millions practers from Havana merchants to provide for war expenses.

" Walt!"-A New Concession Demanded by Fashion.

Alexander the Great, as history informs us had a slight imperfection in the setting of his head which inclined a little to one side. His courtiers therefore felt it incoumbent on them to affect awry necks, and did so accordingly.
Alszandra, Princess of Wales, has unfortunately contracted a limp from rheumatism—and now, as we hear, the liege ladies of England have taken to limping, too, and hait!' is the latest command given by lash 'halt!' is the latest command given by lashion. That he' Alexandra limp', will find is way hither ere long, (says the World) is a thing to be expected, and indeed it has already made its appearance on our (sabionable promenades. The desired limp is obtained by simply wearing shoes with heels of unequal height, and the deformity thus produced is no greater than that which characterizes the 'Greeian bend.'—A necessary accompaniment of the 'Alexandra limp' will be a walking cane, which will be very approbe walking cane, which will be very appro-priate for the walking dolls that adopt the gair. Of course the lashion will lead to a modification of most of our present dances and the invention of new once. Lapsided waltzes will have to be devised, and in deing them the German crutches will probably them the German 'cruiches will producly come to be the proper thing. As the skating season is at hand it would be a neat idea to carry out the 'Alexandra simp' on ice. We have had ever so many good things 'on ice' already, and why not the 'limp'? The girls of the period are capable of acting on any of these suggestions, and they should by means begin to have their balmoral' altered at once, if not their morals.

THE cultivation of opium in China has reached such a pitch that the Chinese Government have found it necessary to issue an ernment have found it accessary to issue an Imperial decree prohibiting the culture of the Poppy plant in the Empire, as its growth is actually beginning to interfere seriously with that of food, and is commencing to cause a scarcity of the grain which is required to provide means of subsistence for the population. This decree, however, though it threatens intrigners of the law with condien punishment, attaches no specific pencondign punishment, attaches no specific penalty to a violation of its provisions. It is thought that, as with an edict promolgated in 1865 to the same effect, it will have but fittle power, and will simply prove an easy means of extortion to the very corrupt Chinese officials. In many parts of China the Poppy is cultivated to a very great extent. In Eastern Mongolia and Northern Manchuria so great a quantity is produced that it is worth while to send it down to the coast to complete in the Nan Chang market with Indian opium. In several of the Southern Provinces it is also grown largely, and in the district of Vunnum to the arterna Southwart a whole tract of in the extreme Southwest, a whole tract of country devoted to the production of the drug, has thrown off its allegiants to the Chinese Empire and become an independent kingdom, under a Mahommedan celled Tu-Wen-hain. The Obinese opium is inferior to, and much more deleterious than the Indian production, and its use is said to be causing the Chinese physical and mental vigor to "Various importers and manufacturers have attempted to attain a reputation for their prepared Cocoas, but we doubt whether any thorough success had been achieved outif Messrs Taylor Brothers discovered the extraordinary qualities of "Maravilla" Cocoa.

Adapting their periet system of preparation to this species of the Theobroma, they have produced and reverse which supersedes every other Cocoa is the market less which supersedes every other Cocoa is the market less which supersedes above all others. For Homeopaths and a rare concentration of the Maravilla Drace elements of nutrition, distinguish the Maravilla Drace elements above all others. For Homeopaths and invalids we could not recommed a more agreeable or valuable baverage."
